I'm in fact a fan of Japanese Animation but most series are just too long or the story keeps changing to often to become a good series. Attack No 1 was indeed a long series but it just kept running and running - no boredom in sight. The story tells us of the volleyball-player Mila (her name in the German version ... One of the most motivating dramas out there is "attack no 1". Adapted from an anime , it certainly did not fail to portray the reality of the volleyball world and the feelings of the athletes. Being an ex-volleyball player I know exactly how it is to train the way the girls do. The plot definitely had a twist before the end of it. It has a lot ...

Cattack! No.1 is a game of cats playing volleyball. Two players cooperate in coaching a team. Each holds up to three cards with arrows in their hand. With these, they try to steer the ball towards and eventually across the net. Quick attacks prevent the opposing team to fill up their hand cards, but are also usually less coordinated. Well-prepared articles allow the attacker to draw a random ...

Since volleyball is a team sport, teamwork is a major theme of "ATTACK no. 1" that wasn't covered much in "ACE o nerae". And, finally, I feel as if "ATTACK no. 1" is a bit more perverted than "ACE o nerae" since there seems to be more emphasis on girls wearing tight clothing and Ueto's status as an idol. (I really hate the part in the middle of ...
